DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-15 are pending in this application.

Specification

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

A substitute specification in proper idiomatic English and in compliance with 37 CFR 1.52(a) and (b) is required. The substitute specification filed must be accompanied by a statement that it contains no new matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter, a product of nature.

Art Unit: 1636

Claim Objections

Claim 15 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend from another multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claim has not been further treated on the merits.

Claim 14 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim should refer to other claims in the alternative only. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claim has not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1, 9 and 10 and by dependency 2-5 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is vague in that applicants recite uses of various vectors or cells but do not recite how these elements are to be used. For example, applicants recite "a first vector is utilized" but do not definitively indicate how it is utilized; applicants recite "transformants are used" and "a second vector is used" but do not indicate how they are used

Use of the phrase "low concentration of a first selection marker" and "increased selection pressure" in claim 1 is broad and indefinite. The terms "low" and "increased" are relative ones not defined by the claim, no single set of conditions is recognized by the art as defining "low" or "increased" and because the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, the metes and bounds of this claim cannot be established and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention.

Claim 1 recites the limitation "the gene copy" in claim 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim and since there are two different genes recited in the claims, it is unclear what gene copy is being referred to in the claim.

Claim 9 recites the limitation "the expression cassette" in claim 9. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 8-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Since the specific transformation vectors, pHAP10-3 and pHAP10-3/9K, are essential to the claimed invention, they must be obtainable by a repeatable method set forth in the specification or otherwise readily available to the public. The invention does not recite use of any vector but instead specifically claims pHAP10-3 and pHAP10-3/9K. Applicants note that the pHAP10 and pHAP10-3/9K vectors use the commercially available Invitrogen vectors pPICZαA and pPic9k vectors into which applicants insert the inventive gene under control of the AOX1 promoter. However, commercial availability is not necessarily evidence that the public will have access to the material for the live of a patent (see MPEP 2404.01). pHAP10-3 and pHAP10-3/9K availability in an unrestricted form for the life of a patent issued on the instant application cannot be ensured. Applicants must therefore themselves deposit pHAP10-3 and pHAP10-3/9K recited in the claims and thus satisfy the deposit requirement under 37 CFR 1.801-1.809 (see enclosed Suggestion for deposit of biological material).

Claims 1-5 and 8-13 are rejected.

Claims 14 and 15 are objected.

Claims 6 and 7 are allowed.
